Dear Students / Parents,

Greetings from Lloyd academic community!

You may be right and I may be wrong but with an effort, together we may get nearer the truth. - Karl Popper

This email is an invitation to all students LLC & LSL to participate in the Intra-Batch Debate Competition & Selection Round. This email also brings along information on how to be a part of Lloyd's Debating Society. The students who wish to be a part of this prestigious society must participate in the selection process.

Debate is a formal contest of argumentation between two teams or individuals. But more importantly, debate is an essential tool for developing and maintaining democracy and open societies. More than a mere verbal or performance skill, debate embodies the ideals of reasoned argument, tolerance for divergent points of view, and rigorous self-examination. Debate is, above all, a way for those who hold opposing views to discuss controversial issues without descending to insult, emotional appeals, or personal bias. A key trademark of debate is that it rarely ends in agreement, but rather, allows for a robust analysis of the question at hand.

Debate & Democracy ::

"Men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely." - Thomas Babington (Lord Macaulay)

From ancient Athens to modern democracies, debate has been intertwined with the development of democratic societies. In ancient Greece, citizens would gather in forums to debate pressing political and societal issues before casting their votes. This tradition laid the foundation for democracy, ensuring that open dialogue and thoughtful argumentation remain at the core of decision-making.

In contrast, undemocratic regimes stifle debate, presenting a limited set of ideas as absolute truths. In true democratic societies, debate fosters the free exchange of ideas, empowering citizens to weigh evidence, reason critically, and engage with differing perspectives. Debate, therefore, nurtures the very values that sustain democracy: reason, tolerance, and intellectual freedom.

At Lloyd, we are dedicated to producing leaders who are not only skilled in the law but are also equipped with the intellectual tools to navigate the complexities of democratic societies. Through a combination of rigorous legal education and an emphasis on debate, we aim to cultivate professionals who can reason, argue, and lead with integrity and openness.
