LLOYD LAW COLLEGE & LLOYD SCHOOL OF LAW

INVITATION FOR NOMINATIONS :: INTERNATIONAL MOOT COURT COMPETITIONS

Skills are the tools of the legal profession. Legal skills are essential across all domains such as litigation, corporate law, judicial services, research, academics, consultancy and advisory roles. The most fundamental skills include reading, writing and speaking. These are applied in client counselling, legal drafting, advocacy, IRAC method, ratio decidendi analysis, memorial writing, case comments, judgment writing, arbitration pleadings, treaty drafting, legislative drafting and transactional documentation.

These skills are developed through Lloyd's skill centres, including Debate Society, Moot Court Society, LIMA, CLD, LTAC, LCPC, CLPC, LCAAC, LWPAC and LASEC. These centres, run by students, faculty and alumni, organise internal competitions and prepare teams for national and international events.

Over the years, Lloyd students have consistently represented the institution at various national and international platforms and have brought laurels through their performances in advocacy-based competitions. Participation in moot court competitions not only enhances legal knowledge but also strengthens practical understanding of procedure, research methodology, drafting techniques and oral advocacy. It provides students with an opportunity to engage with contemporary legal issues, develop confidence and experience the functioning of the legal profession in a simulated environment. In furtherance of this objective and to continue the tradition of academic excellence and advocacy training, the Moot Court Society seeks to provide students with opportunities to participate in reputed moot court competitions across diverse areas of law.
