

Battle of the Batches - Intra College Dance Competition

Dear Parent / Student, 30th March 2026

Greetings from Lloyd Academic Community!

Dance is not merely an art form but a powerful expression of creativity, teamwork, and cultural vibrancy. It provides a platform for students to showcase their talent, build confidence, and foster a spirit of unity and healthy competition. Recognizing the importance of such co-curricular engagement, Lloyd Law College and Lloyd School of Law are organizing "Battle of the Batches", an intra-college dance competition.

The competition aims to bring together students from different batches to compete, collaborate, and celebrate the essence of dance through diverse themes and performances. It will serve as a dynamic platform for students to exhibit their artistic abilities while encouraging coordination, innovation, and team spirit.

The event will be hosted by Thirkan Dance Society, which continues to promote cultural expression and student participation through various initiatives. Each team will present a thematic dance performance, judged on creativity, synchronization, expression, and overall presentation.

The competition will follow an engaging format, beginning with an introduction of the event and judges, followed by batch-wise performances. The event will also include interactive segments and result announcements to maintain enthusiasm and audience engagement throughout.

Through this competition, students will not only enhance their performance skills but also develop confidence, leadership, and collaborative abilities. It will further contribute to creating a vibrant campus culture that values creativity and participation.
