Ms. Aaliya Waziri

- Advocate High Court of Delhi
- Author, SIMON & Schuster

Ms. Aaliya Waziri is a legal practitioner, communications strategist, and published author with over five years of multifaceted experience spanning public international law, civil litigation and editorial consultancy. Her debut collection, In the Body of a Woman: Essays on Law, Gender and Society (published by Simon & Schuster in 2023), reflects nuanced engagement with feminist legal thought and has been widely reviewed across Indian media.

Ms. Aaliya's professional journey has seen her contribute significantly to the United Nations system, where she served as both a national and international consultant with UN Women at the Timor Leste and India Country Office. In these roles, she drafted high-level policy reports, authored strategic advocacy/training materials for treaty body processes, and provided comparative legal research for reforms in gender-based violence response systems. Some of her assignments included CEDAW shadow reports, inter-agency policy coordination, and multilateral dialogue. Her tenure as Law Clerk to Justice Anish Dayal of the Delhi High Court involved close engagement with judicial reasoning, legal drafting, and jurisprudential development, particularly in constitutional and criminal law. Presently, a full time litigator at the High Court of Delhi and various trial courts, she has represented a broad spectrum of civil and criminal matters, including public interest litigations and cases at the intersection of policy, governance, and rights. She also serves as Consulting Editor at Grin Media Publishing House where she curates socially engaging non-fiction content with a strong intersectional lens.

In the last three years, she has delivered guest lectures at Ashoka University, Zakir Hussain College, Hindu College, Daulat Ram College, Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, and Shri Ram Millennium School on topics ranging from anti cyber-harassment protections in the IT Act; the UCC in Uttarakhand to an analysis of the DV Act for unmarried women in live-in relationships. She was one of the panelists at the first edition of the Young Scholars Colloquium on Diversity in Legal Careers hosted by Jindal Global Law University on 3 October 2022. She has been part of an esteemed panel at the PHD Chamber of Commerce on the theme Women in the Judiciary in 2022. She was the recipient of the Young Achievers Award in Literary Excellence conferred by Hindu College Alumni Association in 2024. She currently serves as Vice-Chair (Publications) for the Women's Interest Network Committee (WIN) and Core Member of the Steering Group of Lawyers Abroad Committee (LAC) within the International Law Section of the American Bar Association (ABA).

She has over 30 published essays in leading national dailies and journals, addressing topics such as digital taxation, domestic environmental jurisprudence, and corporate accountability. Aaliya holds an LL.M. in International Commercial and Economic Laws from SOAS, University of London; an LL.B. from O.P. Jindal Global University and a BA.(Hons) in Philosophy from Hindu College, University of Delhi.

Ma'am, we welcome you to Lloyd!
