Dear Parent / Student,

Greetings from Lloyd Academic Community!

Special Session "Combating Gender Stereotypes in Law and Literature" and Book Release authored by Dr. Shatakshi Anand

The Constitution of India demands that every citizen should function with impartiality and fairness. Any stereotype enforces ideas which are contrary to the constitutional values. When language reflects antiquated or incorrect ideas about women, it inhibits the Constitution of India, which seek to secure equal rights to all persons, irrespective of gender. The Supreme Court of India has taken a commendable initiative of preparing a Handbook on Combating Gender Stereotypes both generally and specifically in the legal regime. The Handbook will give a fresh impetus to the quest towards a gender-just legal order and will be a crucial document to ensure that legal fraternity can deliver equal and impartial justice to individuals of all genders. Children are the future of tomorrow, and shaping their mind free from discriminations and biases is the first step towards an egalitarian society. The first book introduced to them should be free from biases and stereotypes and should liberate their mind from any shackles of discrimination. The Book of Fair Tales is a carefully crafted re-telling of classic fairy tales.
